Endless possibilities

A sofa represents endless possibilities. Perhaps their greatest advantage is that you cannot run in a sofa. To sit down in a sofa is like landing on a paradise island. No crowding on your island of comfort, but plenty of room for friends. The fact is that sofas are more important than ever in the modern world. They counteract stress. By providing a free zone for good company and relaxation, you have more intellectual, emotional and physical energy. Why chase happiness when you can sit in the middle of it?
In your own home!

Sustainability in more than one way.

Our own factory

There are all kinds of advantages to owning your own production process. One of the most important is having full control, from start to finish. We build the frames ourselves and cut the fabric and leather. We assemble and upholster the furniture. All of this takes craftsmanship, and it also gives us the space we need to create something unique. Furthermore, the factory's location in Poland puts us near our various markets, which is particularly important considering sustainability.

Design and aesthetics

Design is ultimately about what's important when it comes to choosing a sofa. Of course, the initial comfort, but perhaps more importantly, how the comfort feels after many years of use. The colour, the sensation as you run your hand over the fabric to feel the texture. For us, sofas are about precision but equally about passion. This is the main reason why we design all the sofas in our range ourselves.

Flexibility and freedom of choice

The flexibility and freedom of choice we offer have become our hallmark. The freedom lies in the wide selection of fabrics and leathers, and is a genuine good value when choosing a sofa. It's also possible to combine our sofa models in all kinds of ways. The end result is true freedom to create your very own, unique Furninova sofa.

Nordic Ecolabel

In 2021, we carried out a Nordic Ecolabel certification of one of our models. We will continue with more certifications in the future. We have also begun work on classifying the sustainability of our fabric collection, which is expected to be completed in 2022. The classification means that we take a holistic approach regarding the company's sustainability objectives which we also tie to Agenda 2030.

Sustainability and environment

It's not by chance that our factory is in Poland. It not only gives us complete control over production and quality, but the location itself is also strategic. Quite simply, it puts us that bit closer to our various markets. We are also FSC® certified because we believe that honest, natural materials create furniture that lasts.

The vast majority of our fabrics are OEKO-TEX® approved. We also minimise waste to keep the air and water clean for future generations, and all our suppliers fulfil our supplier policy. This includes the EU's comprehensive REACH regulation, United Nations Conventions, ILO regulations, the UN Global Compact and the EU Timber Regulation.

Forest Stewardship Council®

Furninova is certified by FSC® to achieve our social and environmental goals, creating a wide range of furniture crafted from responsibly sourced wood and wood-based products. The (FSC®) is an international non-profit organisation working towards establishing more sustainable forestry around the world.

FSC® provide global standards for forest management, which cover a balance of environmental, social and economic aspects. By being a member of the organisation, Furninova has a certification that confirms that the forest is being managed in a way that preserves biological diversity and benefits the lives of local people and workers while ensuring it sustains economic viability. Every step in the process is transparent, honest and sustainable by default. The purchase of products carrying the FSC logo supports the preservation of hundreds of millions of acres of forest around the world.

At Furninova we believe that honest and natural materials create furniture that lasts - in agreement with our commitment to deliver long-lasting pieces of furniture - while minimising waste, still keeping the air and water we all share safe and clean for future generations.

Siblings that believe in relationships and gut instincts.

Our focus on interesting people with connections to Furninova continues. This time the spotlight is on three people, namely the founder Benny Nilsson's three children; Sara, Sanna, and Sammie, all of whom started their careers within Furninova and today, they still hold key positions within Furninova or its parent company Stommen Group.

Did you always know that you wanted to pursue a career within Furninova?

Sanna: No, I didn't. It was actually the opposite. I did everything I could to avoid following in dad's footsteps. I worked as a telephone advisor, mowed lawns, and attended musical theatre school, for example. In the end, I ended up in Furninova's customer service department, where I was made responsible for the Canadian market before moving on to purchasing.

Sara: I always knew I wanted to work at Furninova. I wanted to be just like dad ever since I was a toddler. The only thing that ever came close to competing was my tennis career. I spent a few years in Austria, where I learned German. This came in handy later on when I became responsible for our German market.

Sammie: Yes and no. I've always been good at selling, so it's maybe not a total surprise. I spent several years working as a ski instructor in Åre and in New Zealand, but when the opportunity to join Furninova as a trainee arose, the choice was easy. I'm now Key Account Manager for one of our largest client and responsible for the Finnish, Cyprus/Greek and British markets.

What's the best thing about your job?

Sammie: The fact that I don't have to deal with loads of Excel files containing heavy reports! Joking aside, I love that I'm able to focus on selling and creating a great experience for our customers.

Sanna: To me, the best things are the variety that comes with this job, the opportunities, all the trips, and all the interesting people I get to meet. I also love watching the various business areas develop.

Sara: I agree with Sanna, the variation gives me energy. And then there's working with all the talented people at Furninova, Brafab, Conform, Affari, Elevenate, and Ambiente. Right now, I miss being able to go to trade fairs, but things are starting to open up.

How do you siblings work together?

Sammie: Surprisingly well, actually. We do work great together. We're pretty similar deep down, yet also different in many ways. Sanna is maybe a bit stricter, Sara is the glue that keeps everything together, and I mostly just hang around...

Sanna: Well, I wouldn't say that you hang around. Sammie is excellent at sales. I also think all three of us are fairly mature.

Sara: We have our differences, of course, and we sometimes have very different opinions, but we are first and foremost a great team.

First memory of Furninova?

Sanna: I was about ten and attending Stockholm Furniture Fair with mum and Sara. Suddenly, dad appeared on a huge screen at Furninova's large stand. Everything was playing on a loop, and the film with dad never ended.

Sara: I remember that too, and how big everything seemed. It must have been sometime in the early years of 2000.

Sammie: I remember being in nursery and all the children talking about where their parents worked. I told everyone that my dad worked at Bjärnum, because that's where he said he was going every morning when he went to work. It was the name of the village where the office was located.

Continues on the next spread

– *The relationships are hugely important.
Both with our suppliers and with our customers.*

Sara Nilsson

Do you all have the same taste when it comes to interiors?

Sammie: Fundamentally, we all have a strong sense for interior design, even if interpretations vary. I like grey and beige; a modern, unfussy style. Sara once said that my home feels playful, maybe because I like to display fun art on my walls.

Sara: I would describe my style as smart and clean, down to earth, with a lot of dark wood and a beige colour palette. The leather version of the Noir sofa feels like the obvious focal point.

Sanna: I have a Noir too, but mine has a fabric cover. This says a lot about our approaches; similar yet different. I would define my style as modern Scandinavian. Pared back and minimalist. There's grey, a bit more grey, and then some grey...

What are the most important things to consider when choosing a sofa?

Sara: I'm very impractical. I feel that a sofa should first and foremost look great. One good tip is to try to capture the feeling of the entire room. That usually works out well.

Sanna: Think about how you'll be using the sofa. Will you be sitting on it to eat, or just getting cosy in front of the TV? I would say that the more you'll use the sofa when eating, the more vertical the backrest should be.

Sammie: Prioritise in the following order: style, colour, fabric type. Classic or modern? Ask yourself how much work you're willing to put in. Are there a lot of cushions that need to be plumped every time you've used the sofa? Comfort? That's important of course, but not something you need to worry about as it's an integral part of any Furninova sofa.

What is the secret behind Furninova's success?

Sanna: The relationships that dad cultivated so carefully over the years. Also, the product range, which is somehow both cool and mainstream. Our employees are essential too, of course. They've always been loyal to the company.

Sara: I agree; relationships are hugely important. Both with our suppliers and with our customers. Dad has also always been fearless and good at thinking long term. His entrepreneurship means a lot too.

Sammie: I agree with my clever sisters. I would also add gut instinct. I feel this is an important piece of the puzzle that I hope all three of us have inherited from dad.

Who would you bring to a desert island, and why?

Sammie: I'd have to say Bear Grylls; he's an extreme survivor who knows how to deal with everything from a bear attack to starting a fire from virtually nothing. Maybe not exactly a guy who loves to chill out on the sofa, but still...

Sara: Spontaneously I thought of the Swedish comedian Johan Glans. At least he'd give me a few good laughs to brighten up the misery. Or I'd bring my best friend, she makes me happy.

Sanna: I'd bring my partner Pontus, of course. He's a doer, so we'd be just fine.

What will Furninova look like five years from now?

Sanna: Five years really isn't much, and by then sustainability issues will have become even more important. Many of our products will have the Nordic Swan label, we will be able to measure and influence our overall carbon footprint, and the human aspect of sustainability will have become even more important.

Sammie: Five years from now, the company is in a really great place. Just like today, but much more visible. Our brand will have become more widespread. We will be a front runner when it comes to digital developments. We're selling a holistic experience, not just sofas.

Sara: I think it will be about much more than just business five years from now. It will be about how we act, new ways of working, what the organisation looks like, how the group develops and, not least, how the move to our new premises panned out.

What will your sofa look like five years from now?

Sara: As I said, I've invested in a Noir sofa in our most exclusive leather, so I think it'll look better than ever five years from now. Leather just looks better with age after all.

Sammie: The dream is a hovering sofa. Perhaps we'll be bringing one out in a few years?

Sanna: I'll have changed to a sofa with more 'lounger' feeling than Noir, maybe a Vesta. I'll have sold my old sofa. It feels great to know that our sofas last a long time. This is also great from a sustainability perspective.

Vida

Vida might at first glance have a simple contemporary appearance. Still, it features distinctive elements in the areas of both comfort and design. Vida has a deep seating depth and softly rounded wide armrests that are padded. In fact, the entire frame is padded with foam, and the armrests and seat covers are sewn into one single section, which is a subtle but quite luxurious detail.

Our new comfort, C4, with synthetic down makes the cushions more stable and rounder than conventional down-filled without losing the feel. The filling is also allergy-friendly, contains no animal products.

Vida is certified with the Nordic Swan Ecolabel - The Nordic region's largest independent ecolabel. Furninova's objective is to reduce the overall environmental impact of producing and consuming goods. The Svanen Ecolabel covers the entire product's life cycle to benefit people, the environment and the earth's resources.

The Nordic Swan has strict demands on chemicals. It's good for your health and the people who make the products, but it also means the world to our environment and our shared future.

This is the original design to our new range of Paloma sofas - a contemporary looking armchair with rounded lines and a slight retro touch. Palomas' look and feel can be perceived very differently by opting for metal or wooden legs or upholstered mixed combinations. The armchair's inner and outer sides can be ordered with contrasting upholstery to create a more exciting look. Chose your personal expression with colours – incredibly trendy this season is to go for a boucle fabric.

Paloma Mix, a combination of Nubuck clay in the back and Gianni sand inside.
